DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-69 are rejected under 35 USC §103(a). This rejection is set forth in the prior Office action mailed on December 12, 2007.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed on April 09, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that the cited references do not teach the claimed properties of the tissue and that inherency may not be established by probabilities or possibilities. The arguments are not persuasive, because the examiner contention is not that the cited references explicitly teach the claimed properties, but that those properties MUST be inherent to the tissues of the cited references since the raw materials and the method of making the tissues are the same or at the very least very similar and therefore, the claimed properties naturally follow. Applicants have not provided any evidence, nor argued that the process steps were not the same or very similar. It is important to note that the US patent office does not have the means to test any product and that all of the cited references are assigned to the same assignee as the current application and that it would be very feasible to supply evidentiary data establishing the difference between the references and the claimed invention, e.g., it would be relatively easy for applicants to measure the properties of the cited references and compared to the claimed invention.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
